Homes.com™

The Power of Retargeting:

We don't just follow up with buyers, we follow them around and around, you get the point.

Member agents are your key to retargeting

Sellers that list with a Homes.com member agent get to take advantage of one of the most powerful tools there is to market a home: retargeting.

How it works:

If a potential buyer clicks on your listing, when they leave our site, we engage and reengage them across thousands of websites. In other words, the listing follows them around like an adorable little puppy.

Homes.com gives members the power of retargeting so you should feel confident knowing that your home could sell faster and for more money.
